Linda Cole

DNP, RN, APRN, CCNS, CPHQ, CNE

Assistant Professor of Nursing, Clinical

Cizik School of Nursing, University of Texas Health Science Center

Major Responsibilities of Current Position:

Teaching graduate level nursing students in the nursing leadership program (master's level) and doctor of nursing practice (DNP) program. Track coordinator for the nursing leadership program which involves program administration, recruitment and advisement of students.

Past and Present Professional Experiences Relevant to Office Being Sought:

Served on the Leadership Succession committee for the following organizations:

1. Zeta Pi Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau International;
2. District 9 of the Texas Nurses Association
3. ALSN for 2019 to 2020

Bio and Statement of Reasons For Running for an ALSN office:

I am an assistant professor at the Cizik School of Nursing at the University of Texas Health Science Center in Houston where she teaches a variety of courses in both the master's level Nursing Leadership program and DNP program. My clinical interests include pain management, integrative medicine, palliative care, quality, and nursing leadership.

I believe a strong partnership between academia and nursing leaders is essential to assure students are prepared to meet the challenges they will face in today's health care settings. I am seeking election to the Leadership Succession committee to foster these type of partnerships which are supported through organizations such as ALSN.
